Dear Neha,

Thank you for sharing the Minutes of the Meeting.

I acknowledge receipt of the MOM and appreciate the opportunity to discuss the concerns raised during the meeting.

I would like to clarify that my acknowledgement of this email is only to confirm receipt of the MOM and should not be construed as my agreement with or acceptance of all the statements and observations recorded therein.

I have always endeavoured to perform my responsibilities sincerely and to the best of my abilities. I would also like to highlight that I have been willing to cooperate throughout the PIP process and make the necessary improvements.

I request you to kindly share the specific observations, assessment details, and supporting feedback regarding the PIP outcomes so that I can review them and provide my perspective with appropriate clarification, if required.

I will cooperate fully with the process and provide my response to any formal communication or Show Cause Notice issued in this regard.

Thank you for your understanding.

Regards,
Sanjani Kumar

Important points before sending
1. Don't blindly accept the MOM: Acknowledging receipt does not necessarily mean agreeing with every statement.

2. Ask for supporting evidence: Request specific performance gaps, assessment criteria and feedback.
3. Keep everything documented: Maintain copies of the PIP, objectives, feedback, emails and deliverables.
4. Respond to any Show Cause Notice separately: Carefully address each allegation with facts and supporting evidence.
My recommendation: Send this acknowledgement before the deadline of 13 November 2026. Avoid making unnecessary admissions or emotional statements.

I can also help you prepare a strong, point-by-point HR defence against the PIP and proposed Show Cause Notice, addressing each statement in this email.

If you want, I can:
- Draft point-by-point response addressing each MOM statement in detail
- Prepare a checklist of documents and evidence to support my PIP defence
- Guide me on how to respond if a formal Show Cause Notice is issued
